

Seeds for Growth

Independent
Professional Seed Association

To find the tools to help you grow, just find the IPSA logo.
When you see it, you've found independent seed companies who know what it takes to maximize your success.

Because with independents, you're more than a number.
You're working with locally owned businesses who know your business and have a vested interest in your community. They're keeping the market competitive by offering you exceptional service and the most advanced traits and genetics.

IPSA and your independent seed companies. Seeds for Growth.
